MEDICINAL.

SEEK

health and avoid sickness.
Instead of feeling tired and worn out, instead of aches and pains, wouldn't you rather feel fresh and strong?

You can continue feeling miserable and good for nothing, and no one but yourself can find fault, but if you are tired of that kind of life, you can change it if you choose.

How? By getting one bottle of BROWN'S IRON BIT-TERS, and taking it regularly according to directions.

Mansfield, Ohio, Nov. 26, 1881.
Gentlemen:—I have suffered with pain in my side and back, and great soreness on my breast, with shooting pains all through my body, attended with great weakness, depression of spirits, and loss of appetite. I have taken several different medicines, and was treated by prominent physicians for my liver, kidneys, and spleen, but I got no relief.
I thought I would try Brown's Iron Bitters; I have now taken one bottle and a half and am about well—pain in side and back all gone—soreness all out of my breast, and I have a good appetite, and am gaining in strength and flesh. It can justly be called the king of medicines.
JOHN K. ALLENBENDER.

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS is composed of Iron in soluble form; Cinchona the great tonic, together with other standard remedies, making a remarkable non-alcoholic tonic, which will cure Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Malaria, Weakness, and relieve all Lung and Kidney diseases.

Look Not Upon the Soda.
There is a beautiful young lady in this city, a temperance girl, who has a pair of eyes that sparkle so that a stranger would think she was winking when she looked up and smiled. She would not wink for anything, but when she smiles the salvage around the eyes seems to draw up, and, well, if it isn't a wink it is a counterfeit well calculated to deceive. She was the way to the temperance lodge the other night and stopped at a soda fountain to get a glass of soda, and when the clerk asked what flavor she would have, she looked up at him and smiled, and said, "I will leave that to you?" The clerk said afterwards, when her brother came in after the lodge was over to whip him, that he would have sworn she winked. It seems some of the customers want a little brandy in their soda, and the proprietor told the clerk when anybody winked and looked sort of cunning to put a little brandy with the flavoring. He thought she was one of the winking customers, and he thinks now he might have put in a little two much. The Noble Duke of the lodge refuses to accept the explanation up to this time, though it is thought he will get over his annoyance before the next meeting and let the girl remain a member if she desires to do so, though she says she does not see how she can ever look the brothers and sisters in the face.
They tell two or three stories about it but the version of the Grand Worthy Chaplain of the lodge seems to be accepted as the true one.
The soda began to take effect on the girl just as she got into the ante-room, and instead of whispering the pass word to the Outside Sentinel, that worthy official, who is a young married man, says she put her mouth to his ear and bit it, and then threw her arms around his neck. He would not have cared so much about this, only his wife was in the ante-room putting on her regalia.
The soda girl also caused remark in the ante-room by getting into her regalia feet first, and pulling it on as she would a pair of drawers. The Outside Sentinel says that struck him as being more unusual than the way she gave him the pass word. However, he let her into the inner room. There is a hole in the inner door which the applicant for admission puts her mouth up to and whispers the pass word into the ear of the Inside Sentinel, who is a lady. The soda girl put her mouth up to the hole, after giving three distinct raps, and as the ear of the Inside Sentinel covered the hole on the opposite of the door, the soda girl said, "Set em up. Soda with perflu (hic) mery in it." As the regular quarterly pass word was "strong drink is raging," and the Inside Sentinel smelled liquor on the breath of the applicant, she thought some saloon character was trying to get into the lodge, so she drew her stuffed club, the badge of her office, and opened the door. Seeing that it was a member, the guard let the girl in, after reprimanding her for her levity, and the girl marched to the middle of the floor, a little shaky in the legs. The custom is for a member, on entering to go to the middle of the floor, look at the Grand Worthy Chair Holder, and place the right index finger to the right side of the nose and keep it there until the chairman responds, when the newcomer takes a seat. The soda girl, instead of placing her thumb to her nose and wiggled her fingers, and went to take a seat beside the Chaplain, and put her feet upon the desk of the good man. If a large fire-cracker, loaded with bourbon whiskey, had exploded in the lodge-room, it would not have created more consternation. The Chaplain fainted, the worthy Chairman declared a recess, and the members all gathered around the sister, whose face was flushed. Her hair was scrambled, caused by taking off her hat without removing the hair pins. Her frizers were around on her left ear, and one bang was on the back of her neck, while the place where the hair was parted ran across her head from ear to ear. Her brother came up and put her feet from off the desk and asked her if she had been run over by a wagon or chased by a dog. Everybody smelled the liquor and when the Chief accused her of having tampered with the soul-destroying beverage which steals away the brain, she told him he was a "prevar (hic) eater," and hit him on the ear with a gavel. The sisters tried to get her to go to the ante-room and seek her brother, but she said she wanted to ride the goat, and she took a run and jump and sat upon a table as though it was a side saddle, and laughed so loud that the brothers and sisters thought she would disturb the whisperers in a saloon not far away. Finally the choir struck up tune, "Cold Water, Bright Water," and the soda girl sung, "Johnny Fill up the Bowl," and tried to put her thumbs in the arm-holes of her vest and walk like Pat Rooney.
The brother finally got her to go home, and now it is a go-as-you-please between the girl and the clerk and the proprietor, and the girl's brother, as to who is to blame. She says if she is forgiven for this she will never swallow another glass of soda until it is analyzed by a competent chemist. The lodge is all broke up about it, because outsiders are talking the affair over.—Peck's

WARNER'S

CURE

Disease is an effect, not a cause. Its origin is within; its manifestations without. Hence, to cure the disease the cause must be removed, and in no other way can a cure ever be effected. WAR-NER'S SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE is established on just this principle. It realizes that all diseases arise from deranged kidneys and liver, and it strikes at once at the root of the difficulty. The elements of which it is composed act directly upon these great organs, both as a food and restorer, and, by placing them in a healthy condition, drive disease and pain from the system.

For the innumerable troubles caused by undermined Kidneys, Liver and Urinary Organs; for the distressing Disorders of Women; for Malaria; and for physical derangements generally, this great remedy has no equal. Beware of impostors, imitations and concoctions said to be just as good.
For Diabetes, ask for WARNER'S SAFE DIA-BETES CURE. For sale by all dealers.
